

The Matlab files can be independently run and produces the figures as in the article "A relative approach to opinion formation".

An explanation of the Matlab files is provided in the files itself.